LEADERS HINT END OF STRIKE IS NEAR

STRIKE WON'T LAST, BRITISH INDUSTRY SAYS

Striking Populace is Suffering More Than Employers

GOVERNMENT OBDURATE Won't Resume Negotiations Until Laborers Resume Work

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1926 by Post Pub. Co. Washington. Private advices received here from abroad would seem to indicate that in their communications to American businessmen, the leaders of British industry are far more optimistic over the outcome of the general strike than might appear in the press dispatches.

Though not concealing their apprehension over the serious turn which the strike may at any time take, the private cables declare that the general strike is bound to collapse for the same reason that has made the general strike a doubtful weapon heretofore, namely, that it hurts the striking population quite as much as the industries sought to be punished.

The general paralysis of the social structure is never to the liking of public opinion and the fundamental issues which are usually involved in the strike are lost sight of in the general confusion that results. This, at least, is the chief reason for a growing belief here that the strike will be short-lived and that there is significant evidence in the pleas of the British labor leaders for a resumption of negotiations.

The confidential information sent here reveals that the British government is in a determined frame of mind and that it will never agree to official parties until the strike is called off. Once the strike ceases for the purpose of negotiation it is conceded that it never will be resumed and that an agreement of some kind will be reached.

There is no concealing the concern here lest a general strike become effective in a country like Great Britain for the spread of such tactics would not be surprising. The idea of the United States "the idea of a general strike has been so thoroughly opposed by the labor leaders themselves that it is not with respect to the United States that fears exist of possible damage by example but with respect to France, Germany, and other countries.

STRIKE MAY AFFECT COTTON
The department of commerce has not ventured an official opinion as yet to the economic effects of the strike though every agency of the government is considering, of course such emergency measures as may be taken to assist in the reconstruction of trade. It is realized that some of the cotton mills in central Europe may be affected and may desire more of American cotton in order to keep pace with world demand. In some instances trade contacts are established which become of permanent value.

The experts are not ready to calculate the ill-effect of the British strike on American industry, preferring to wait for the strike will be of long duration. It is generally conceded that the damage will be relatively small if the strike does not go beyond a week.

The general impression here now is that the British government will become active in the informal negotiations and that a cessation of the strike is not unlikely before many days. This is the tenor of messages received here and while these communications may be based on the viewpoint of industry abroad they are nevertheless being accepted as a reflex of the uncompromising disposition of the British government itself.

DISPATCHES DESCRIBE NORGE'S 1,400 MILE TRIP

New York. (AP)—The 1400 mile flight of the Norge in two stages from Tromsø to Kings Bay is described in radio dispatches from the ship to the New York Times and the St. Louis Globe Democrat. When the aircraft had left north Cape Norway 180 kilometers away, she was flying at an altitude of 400 meters in a light southeasterly breeze with the temperature at minus one centigrade, just below freezing. The dispatch correctly estimated the time of the journey from Vadsø to Kings Bay at 15 to 20 hours. On the flight from Tromsø to Vadsø the Norge required 19 hours. The dirigible crossed the drifting ice south of Bear Island, which lies midway between the northern Norwegian coast and Spitzbergen, passed through a patch of fog stretching to the northward. All on board the airship were well.

Chicago Prosecutor and States Attorney Join Forces Against Crime

Chicago. (AP)—Two grand juries now are in session in northern Illinois one meeting at Joliet to investigate the slaying of a deputy warden, during the escape of seven convicts from state prison and the other here to delve into crime conditions with a possibility that their paths may touch in places.

States Attorney Robert E. Crowe and Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom who are in charge of the jury here are seeking to shed light on alleged "pardon mill" involving Major M. A. Messlin former welfare worker. States Attorney Rehn at Joliet has started his grand jury on an investigation of all affairs at Stateville prison and activities of its staff.

The first evidence submitted at Joliet directly concerned the murder of Deputy Warden Klein, in charge of the Stateville prison, slain by the seven convicts in their escape. He was stabbed with scissors blades and beaten with iron pipes after the criminals had overpowered a guard and two trustees.

The seven, four of whom later were recaptured, ignored a guard captain to lead them through the prison gates and accompany them some distance in flight in the warden's automobile. Near Marseilles the convicts separated two leaving the car and the other five continuing in it.

THREE STILL AT LARGE
Three of the group of five, who were captured in or near Leonore, Ill., after a gun fight in which one of the fugitives a citizen and a policeman were wounded have been returned to their cells at Stateville. The wounded convict is in a critical condition in a Streator Ill. hospital.

Meanwhile an extensive search is in progress for the three convicts still at large.

Two suspects taken from a train at Baileyville Thursday night, were taken to Freeport for identification. Two men also were held at Battle Creek Michigan.

The connection, if any, between Deputy Warden Klein who was slain and Major Messlin will be sought. States Attorney Rehn said, since it has been disclosed that Klein was a stockholder and former officer of the major engineering corporation, headed by Major Messlin.

Rehn also said an attempt would be made to determine if Klein shared in profits of the Engineering Co.

The Chicago crime grand jury, which resulted from the slaying of William McGivern, ace of the states attorneys office and two companions Thursday heard the first testimony concerning paroles.

CONVICT SUSPECTS SAY THEY ARE BADGERS
Freeport, Ill. (AP)—Two suspects taken from a freight train here by authorities who were keeping watch for trace of three convicts still missing after the jail break at the Stateville penitentiary, gave their names as Fred Schwartz of Flora and Glenn Gordon of Waupaca.

Their identification of themselves had not been corroborated but authorities here were disinclined to believe they were convicts. They said they had been arrested in Chicago on vagrancy charges and had been released on Wednesday and ordered to leave the city.

The value of the property was estimated at about $4,000. Mr. Dillman acted as agent for Mrs. Dodge in the purchase of the residence.

Recently there have been a number of reports that Mrs. Dodge and An Dillman were to be married soon but until the announcement Thursday, members of the Dodge family refused to make any statements that would confirm or deny them.

Although Mrs. Dodge's wealth is known to run into many millions of dollars, no estimate of it ever has been given.

Mr. Dillman was at one time a resident of Detroit. Several years ago he was an actor with the Ronstello company, local theatre organization. Later Mrs. Dodge was at Palm Beach where Mr. Dillman resides part of the time. Mr. Dillman is a former husband of Marjorie Rambeau.

BIG QUANTITY OF BEER, MOON IS DESTROYED

Buchanan, Grand Chute and Appleton Visited by Raiders

BULLETIN
Late Friday afternoon it was reported from Green Bay that Edward Powers, Cornelius Oudenhoven and Frank Riehl, arrested by federal prohibition raiders here Thursday night, will not be arraigned in the United States court commissioner's office until Monday.

Nearly 2,300 bottles of alleged homebrew beer, four barrels of the same concoction and about 25 gallons of alleged colored moonshine whiskey were seized near Appleton Thursday night by a party of raiders from the United States prohibition office in Milwaukee. Three men were arrested and two automobiles were confiscated by the raiders.

Those arrested are Edward Powers, Buchanan, Cornelius Oudenhoven, Grand Chute, Frank Riehl, Appleton. All three men were taken to Green Bay for arraignment before John F. Watermolen, United States court commissioner. The federal prohibition office in Milwaukee declined to give the names of the federal officers who made the raid.

SEIZE MOONSHINE
A Ford truck and a Buick touring car taken from Powers was held at the police station here until claimed by prohibition officials. According to the prohibition office in Milwaukee, two 5 gallon cans containing colored moonshine were taken from the Ford while the Buick contained three 5 gallon jugs of the same liquor. Raiders also found two 5 gallon jugs of alleged moonshine and six gallons in a barrel in a shed at the Powers home.

At the Oudenhoven place raiders reported they found 336 bottles of beer and 40 gallons in the process of manufacture. Some of the alleged liquor was taken along as evidence and the remainder was destroyed. The equipment for making the beer also was confiscated.

MAKE BIG HAUL

The largest haul of alleged homebrew beer was made at the Frank Riehl place, just outside Appleton city limits. Prohibition officers declared they found 81 cases each containing 24 bottles of home brew, a total of 1,944 bottles. They also found three one-quarter barrels and one-eight barrel of home brew. Four copper cookers, each of 15 gallons capacity, were confiscated and the raiders destroyed about 100 gallons of beer in process of manufacture.

Prairie Farm. (AP)—Four men robbed the First State bank here of about $4,000 and $5,000 at 9:15 a. m. Friday.

The men drove up to the bank in a touring car with a Minnesota license. One man remained at the wheel. The other three entered the bank.

In the bank were Willard May, assistant cashier and Gordon Peterson, bookkeeper. They were alone at the time.

The chief of the group, a tall elderly man, stuck an automatic pistol through the bars of the teller's cage and ordered the men to stick up their hands. Then he reached through the bars and took the cash. Scarcely had the bandits left the bank when May and Peterson spread the alarm by means of the telephone. Every town and city within a radius of about 100 was notified.

FRANK WANTS MORE HEART IN INDUSTRY

University Prexy Pleads for Humanizing Machine Civilization

Madison. (AP)—Reversing the results of the old industrial revolution that made man the servant rather than the master of industry, through a new revolution is the challenge to the engineer minds of America, President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin said Thursday night.

Addressing the convention of the Great Lakes district of the American institute of electrical engineers, President Frank expressed belief that American must rely upon engineering intelligence to accomplish the reversal.

"I believe that it is possible to humanize a machine civilization but it will not be done by the soft hearted Santa Claus type of employer," President Frank declared, "by the simple device of giving free baths and flower pots to workmen. It will be done if done at all by an engineering intelligence that brings genuine statesmanship into the processes and procedures of industrial life."

FOR DECENTRALIZATION
President Frank agreed with Henry Ford that there is need for decentralization of production, making possible a correlation of agricultural and industrial production.

The old industrial revolution from 1770 to 1840, he declared, centralized production in the great industrial cities making the workman's tenure of employment insecure.

This insecurity he explained was due to "glutting" of the market with goods turned out so much quicker by machine than hand.

Factories were shut down until the consumption could catch up and the workmen discharged until they were needed again, President Frank declared. "The man who had been a creative craftsman became a human automaton tending a machine."

"The possibility of decentralizing production contains fascinating possibilities that should interest Wisconsin which finds growing up alongside its magnificent administered agricultural life a great and potential industrial life."

This decentralization as picture by President Frank would permit the making of standardized parts in small factories located on rural streams and manned by farm labor in the time it is not engaged in agricultural work. Great industrial establishments, he said would then become only assembling plants.

Efforts are being made by the trade unionists of New South Wales to prevent exports of fuel to the British Isles. The New South Wales colliery engine drivers probably will strike Saturday if wage demands are not conceded. A strike would close the mines.

Motor husses in London have barbed wire entanglements over their hoods to protect the motors from at attacks by hoodlums. The volunteer bus crews include youth dressed in plus four and college sweaters. Strikers pickets are giving the collegians the jazz.

Unless the British strikers are permitted to "blow off steam" in "soap box" orations, the strike situation may become more dangerous. This is the opinion of a labor member of parliament as expressed in the house of commons in discussing the right of the government under the exceptional powers bill to suppress public meetings and processions.

The trades union congress of Great Britain has requested funds from the American Federation of Labor and other American and Canadian organizations with which to further the strike. The congress describes the movement as absolutely solid and the greatest demonstration of working class solidarity in history.

Otto H. Kahn, banker has given a terse view in New York as to the cause of the general strike. He thinks it is the culmination of difficulties arising from the relations between "hard-boiled employers and short-sighted employees."

The strike is causing a loss of about $8,680.50 per minute to Great Britain's trade, it is figured by statisticians of the British chamber of commerce.

NINETY TODAY

"UNCLE JOE" CANNON

PAY HOMAGE TO UNCLE JOE AS HE REACHES 90

Veteran Illinois Legislator, Sans Glasses, Greets Home Folks

Danville, Ill. (AP)—A soldier home from the wars, Joseph G. Cannon celebrated his 90th birthday Friday amid his homefolks.

In the midwestern city from which he went 23 times to the Congress of the United States aged patriarch planned his customary morning trip down town to be followed by perusal of his mail in his study, and then tucking in of the radio.

But even his determination to pass the day quietly could not make the occasion an ordinary one. And to visitors who came, the stalwart figure who has been Uncle Joe to them for 50 years was ready to wage a greeting from the veranda, a raising of the left hand now a trembling member which once wielded in a grip of steel the gavel of the national house of representatives.

PICTURESQUE FIGURE
None of the picture is lacking however, as he stands before his rambling brown mansion or sits in the cool recesses of the study which has been his workshop since the seventies. The omnipresent stogie is clenched between his teeth—a milder stogie though the close cropped beard beneath his chin adds its touch of picturesqueness to the head which age has not bowed.

To visitors he has declined to express any views on questions of the day "even on my birthday."

"I had opinions and expressed them when I was in public life," he said. "Now I've retired." The new generation doesn't need my advice."

Great point however, he stresses. He still is a Republican and eager for Republican success.

While the Trades Union congress is deliberating whether to call out the electrical workers, strikes have been declared at the New Castle and Newport power plant. Shipping conditions are almost normal at Liverpool and are almost normal at Glasgow, Belfast and Dublin. The telephone and mail service are improving.

Workers Seek Protection So They Can Return to Jobs

BULLETIN
London. (AP)—Troops wearing steel helmets and carrying full field equipment were sent Friday afternoon into the dock districts of London where the rough crowds are becoming too unruly for the unarmed police.

BULLETIN
London. (AP)—Another million workers known as the Trades Union congress second line of defense, will be called on strike in support of the present strikers unless there are indications soon of a speedy settlement. This announcement was made Friday by E. J. Poulton, spokesman for the Trades Union Congress.

Great Britain went into the fourth day of the general strike with both sides standing pat. But guarded predictions were made in labor quarters that the crisis might be settled early next week. Premier Baldwin and J. H. Thomas, Labor leader, have been in conference.

An international aspect was given to the strike when the executive committee of the Danish trades unions at Copenhagen gave preliminary notice of a walkout in support of British workers.

The communist international in Moscow sought to bring together representatives of French, Belgian, Czechoslovakian, Dutch and German labor organization to frame measures aiding the British strikers. Money is being sent to the British workers by Mexican and Argentine labor bodies and American labor has been asked to contribute.

LITTLE DISORDER
There was little disorder up to noon Friday, although disturbances occurred in Edinburgh Thursday night and at Middlesborough where the freight station was wrecked and an alleged attempt was made to wreck a passenger train.

The Welsh coal fields are quiet but the attitude of the strikers in Cardiff has become menacing. The government claims the workers are tricking back to their jobs or making overtures for protection if they should return.

Volunteers for necessary services are increasing and many more buses and trains were available Friday. The London subway has posted "No help wanted" signs.

POWER PLANTS DOWN
While the Trades Union congress is deliberating whether to call out the electrical workers, strikes have been declared at the New Castle and Newport power plant. RAILROAD SUIT STILL IN COURT

Wisconsin Distributing Co.
Claims $1,300 Damages
from Road

Testimony in the suit, brought by the Wisconsin Distributing Co. against the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, which opened in municipal court Wednesday morning, continued through Friday.

Damages of about $1,300 to a carload of apples which had been enroute from Yakima Valley, Wash. in September 1924 are claimed by the plaintiffs. Wisconsin Distributing Co. claims that the apples were billed to be shipped in a car with a standard ventilating system, but that the vents were closed when the car arrived here and that in consequence much of the fruit was heated.

The defendants maintain that the trip from Washington had been made for three-quarters of the distance over another railroad and that the transfer to the Northwestern road had been made at Marshfield.

During 1924 all apples in Yakima Valley had ripened too soon and some had been touched by insects, it is contended by the defendants, who maintain that the apples were not in first-class condition when they were shipped.

Players Take Masks Off In Last Film Of Contest

Only one more day to wait for the unmasking of the 21 famous Meyer-Goldwyn-Mayer film stars in the Appleton Post-Crescent-Elite Theater masked players' contest and just a few more days and the winners of the six cash prizes will be made known. The coupons containing the names of the stars and your slogans have been gone over and studied carefully by the Masked Players Contest editor and officials of the Elite theater and the prize winners have already been selected.

The unmasking film will be shown at the Elite theater Saturday and all next week so you will soon have the opportunity of seeing how many of the stars you guessed correctly and thus judging for yourself how near you have come to winning those cash prizes. The first prize is $50 and the second is $25. The person winning third place will receive $10 and the fourth, fifth and sixth place winners $5 to $5 apiece.

Everybody guessed most of the screen celebrities correctly, but there was a few slips here and there. But in the long run it was the slogans that counted in the judges' decisions.

WAUPACA CITY COUNCIL HOLDS BUSY MEETING

Waupaca — The common council accomplished considerable at the regular semi-monthly meeting this week. A letter was read from L. D. Smith, who was elected city attorney stating he could not represent the city if the case of the city vs. the Old National bank should come to trial. All bills and the pay roll was allowed.

The Waupaca County News was made the official paper for the next year.

A sum of $100 was voted for the Memorial Day committee. The park board were voted a sum of $400. N. Nelson, city engineer, was allowed $20 per month extra expense money for the use of his car each month during the summer. A sum of $492 was given the fire department which was received from the State Fire commission representing a two third tax received by them.

A resolution was adopted directing the Fire commission to draw up specifications and advertise for bids for a fire truck. These were to be presented to the council for consideration.

A rebate of $42 will be given Mrs. Anna Holmes when the sewer from her residence is connected with one in Center st. The position of the sewer on Granite st. is such that the connection can not be made there.

Waupaca-co rural schools were granted the use of the camp site for the annual picnic in May 28.

It was agreed that a committee of three be appointed by the mayor to confer with a committee representing the Chamber of Commerce relative to the supervision of the camp site. They were to report on this at the next council meeting.

Mothers Look

when buying oats.

That means
richer flavor

WHEN children say they don't like oats, it's usually because rich Quaker flavor is missing.

Children who ordinarily don't take to oats are often quickly won to this important food, simply by giving them "Quaker."

The flavor is uniquely different; toasty, rich and creamy, Quaker Oats alone has it. Some 50 years were spent in perfecting it.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed. Thus protein, carbohydrates and vitamins and "bulk" combine in making Quaker Oats an excellently balanced ration.

ASKS FOR SOBRIETY IN GERMAN COLLEGE

"Help me encourage students to practice sobriety," was the plea made recently by President Ludwig von Koehler of Tübingen University, renowned for its school of theology to the alumni.

The German universities do not have general alumni associations, but there are alumni organizations of the various fraternities or "corporations." In his letter to the "corporations," Dr. von Koehler pointed out that during and immediately after the war, German students showed a commendable restraint in the use of alcohol. More recently, however, drinking has set in to an alarming degree, he said.

CITY BUYS LOT IN RAVINE NORTH OF COLLEGE-AVE

Pays Pierce Land Co. $7,200 for Property on Which to Build Street

A resolution empowering the mayor and city attorney to purchase the ravine property north of the W. Collegeave viaduct for $7,200 was adopted by the common council at its meeting Wednesday evening at the city hall.

The property is lot 8, block 20, of the fifth ward plat, and is owned by the Pierce Land Co., and Dudley H. Pierce. An option on the land was secured by the city this week.

The property will be filled in and a roadway connecting W. Collegeave and W. Washington-st will be constructed through it. It was estimated by the council that the ravine could be filled in about a year.

The amount to be purchased by the city is approximately 88 by 120 feet, allowing sufficient space for a large roadway.

WONT DRAIN PLAT

Action will be taken by the city to stop drainage of the Lake Park Reserve, located just outside of the south city limits of the city in Calumet-co. into the city, according to a resolution introduced by Alderman McGillan and adopted by the council.

Alderman McGillan informed the council that the owners of this place were having sewers dug there apparently with the purpose of connecting with the city sewer line at the corner of Calumet and S. Oneida-st. The city sewer is not adequate to handle this additional sewage, Alderman McGillan said and he urged that steps be taken immediately to stop the proposed action of the plat owners.

The salary of the city nurse will remain at $1,850 per year. The council adopted a motion that no additional appropriation for the city nurse department be made. The matter came up following a request by Miss Flor

ARREST MAN HERE FOR POLICE AT MANITOWOC

Leo Branger, cable man for the Wisconsin Telephone Co. here, was arrested by Albert Deltgen of the Appleton police, at 8 o'clock Thursday morning at the request of Manitowoc police Wednesday afternoon.

Branger, it is charged, took the sedan car of Ronald Hamilton without Hamilton's permission, and drove to Manitowoc Wednesday. While backing out from a parking place in Manitowoc, Branger struck and damaged the rear of another automobile as well as of the machine he was driving. After the accident Branger failed to stop, but returned to Appleton.

Manitowoc police took the number of the car and traced it to Appleton, where Hamilton implicated Branger. The latter will answer to a charge of reckless driving and of failure to stop after striking another machine. Manitowoc were notified of Branger's arrest Thursday morning.

ence Whipple, who had been offered the position of city nurse. She pointed out that the school nurse was receiving a salary of $1,650 for nine months, plus $25 per month to run her car, which was more than the salary of the city nurse, and she asked for an additional $200 to run her car. Miss Whipple, who formerly held the position of city nurse, has not yet indicated whether she will again accept the position.

The council adopted the report of the committee on fire and water that water main extensions be constructed on Owaissa-st. from E. Pacific to E. Opechee-st.

Upon the recommendation of the streets and bridges committee, walks were ordered constructed on the following streets:

West side of Lawe-st. hill from its present terminus south to bridge; on Bellaire-st. in front of lots 25, 27, 28 and 29; crosswalks in Bellaire-st. where necessary, under direction of city engineer; on east side of Appleton-st. from Lawrence-st. south to connect with present walk.

The petition to open Jackson-st. from Maple-st. south to Calumet-st. was granted, provided that owners of property there will furnish proper deeds to the city.

NON-RESIDENT FISHING LICENSES ARE RECEIVED

Non-resident fishing licenses have been received at the office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk. In the neighborhood of sixty of these licenses will be issued this year, Mr. Hantschel estimates.

While the trout season opened Saturday, no pike, pickerel, muskellunge, etc., may be caught in Outagamie-co until June 1. The non-resident fishing licenses may, however, be used in such Wisconsin counties as have open seasons on any variety of fish.

Contracts for the construction of two inmate buildings at the Northern hospital for insane at Winnebago were signed at Madison Tuesday by H. C. Koepke of the Appleton Construction company. The local firm entered a bid of approximately $125,000 for the two buildings.

Construction work will start immediately, according to Mr. Koepke. The buildings are to be of brick structures. It is expected that they will be completed about January 1927.

CATLIN WINNER IN ANNUAL HYDE SPEAKING TILT

Wins Medal and Right to Represent School in League Contest

John Catlin, a senior at Appleton high school, won the annual Hyde extemporaneous speaking contest Wednesday evening at the school with a speech entitled "Uncle Sam—Creditor" and will represent Appleton in the Fox River Valley Forensic league contest Friday at Oshkosh. The contest held in the high school assembly room, was the closing event of the annual parents' visiting day and exhibit. Edward Blessman, speaking on "Democracy Wandering in the Wilderness" won second place, and Abram Cohen with "New Homes for New Yorkers" placed third. Seven speakers took part. The others were Mark Catlin, Glenn Opperman, Carl Nelson and Robert Wolf.

The contestants each drew three topics and were permitted to choose one. Then each was assigned to a room and given an hour to prepare his speech. The subject matter for all the topics has been taken from recent issues of the "Literary Digest" and "The Outlook." The speakers were not allowed to use any reading material in the final hour of preparation.

Judges were E. J. Rohan, William W. Frank and Dr. H. E. Peabody. While the judges were preparing their ballots Lelia Boettcher played several violin selections, accompanied on the piano by Russell Mayton.

The program in the assembly room was opened with an address of welcome to the parents and visitors by Herbert Helbie, principal. The high school band played several selections under the direction of Carl McKee.

About 350 parents and visitors attended the exhibit, class demonstrations and the Hyde contest. Two regular class periods were held previous to the speaking contest to give the parents a chance to see how high school teaching is done.

MISTAKE TO GIVE UP NAVIGATION IN UPPER FOX RIVER

Government Board Hears Protest from Wisconsin Riparians

A vigorous protest against the proposed abandoning of the upper Fox River locks and canals by the federal government was voiced by four Wisconsin men at a hearing April 28 before the rivers and harbors board at Washington, D. C. One of the Wisconsin delegates at the hearing was Allen H. Tripp, Oshkosh, secretary of the Association for the Relief of High Water. The Wisconsin case also was argued before the board by Congressman Florian Lampert of Oshkosh, and Edward Voight of Sheboygan.

Congressman Voight acted as chairman of the state delegation and introduced each speaker. Charles E. Halbert, state chief engineer, presented a map of the Wisconsin river from Portage to Prairie du Chien and showed that by building additional dams on the Wisconsin river it could be made navigable and the power developed would return a handsome dividend. This, in itself, should stop all plans for the abandonment of the upper Fox. Mr. Halbert told the board.

Prof. E. R. Jones, state drainage engineer, talked on the effect of dredging a 6-foot channel from Portage to Oshkosh and explained how great a benefit it would be.

Leo Husting of the state railroad commission presented a brief on the industrial life of the state and gave data regarding the prominent Fox river manufacturers who would use the Omo-Portage route if it was constructed.

Mr. Tripp pointed out the seriousness of the navigation situation should the upper Fox be abandoned. He also reported on the recent break in the lock at Portage which threatened to flood the entire Fox River valley.

BULLETIN DEFINES LAWRENCE COURSES

The May issue of the Lawrence College Bulletin has been made into an announcement of courses. A new curriculum having been put into effect early this spring, the authorities of the college found the students very much at sea as to the exact meaning of the changes, and the bulletin comes by way of explanation.

The biggest change in study at Lawrence comes in the reversal from the quarter system back to the semester system which was in use until three years ago. This provides for only one break in the courses of study during the entire year. The first semester will begin on Tuesday, September 21, and will end on Friday, February 4. The following Monday, February 7, the work for the second semester will begin and work for the school year will officially end with commencement day on Monday, June 13.

Several changes have also been made in the requirements for each year. A more systematic method

TEACHERS ASK PARENTS' HELP

Difficult to Check Pupils' Absences Without Cooperation from Home

Discussion of the new system of checking up on children's absences from grade schools was one of the matters taken up at the monthly meeting of grade school principals Wednesday afternoon at Lincoln school. Teachers are anxious that parents notify them in advance when children will be absent from school. It is pointed out that such notification will be a protection to the child and to the home, as well as an aid to the teacher.

In the new system of checking attendance the teacher determines the exact whereabouts of each absent child immediately after the school session opens each morning and afternoon. She does this by calling up the mother of each absent student. If a mother reports that the child has started for school it is evident that some mishap has befallen it. Teachers report that they have had considerable difficulty in getting in touch with homes where there is no telephone.

Preliminary plans for next year's school exhibits also were discussed at the meeting.

So inspiring was an address on culture by Miss Ellen Wilkinson during an all-night sitting on the British Parliament, that one of the occupants of the ministerial benches presented to her a pair of scissors enclosed in a brown leather case, and the recipient, to escape bad luck, gave the donor a penny.

has been drawn up in the courses of study so that certain things must be taken during one year at school and can not be taken during any other. All this is designed to do away with a good deal of the confusion usually found in planning a course of study.

REACH GOAL IN LAKES CAMPAIGN

C. C. Directors Urge State to Provide Alternate Route for Highway 15

The financial goal of Wisconsin Land O'Lakes Association campaign in Appleton was reached, the campaign committee, headed by Charles Emder, reported to directors of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce at a meeting at Conway hotel Wednesday noon. Other members of the committee were Claude Snider, Robert Wolter and Ambrose Wilton. Part of the money raised will be used to publish the booklet advertising Appleton, while part will be given to the lakes association.

A recommendation will be made to the state highway commission to arrange two routes for tourists using highway 15 through the city, one over the proposed new route and the second through the business district, the directors decided.

A. A. Wettengel, chairman of the retail trades committee, reported that the committee was giving its full support to Appleton Milk Week.

D. O. Kinsman, chairman of the community welfare committee, has called a meeting of the body for 4 o'clock next Monday afternoon, May 10, at the chamber of commerce offices. Work for the ensuing year will be outlined.

EMPLOYERS MUST BE SURE AGE OF YOUNG EMPLOYES

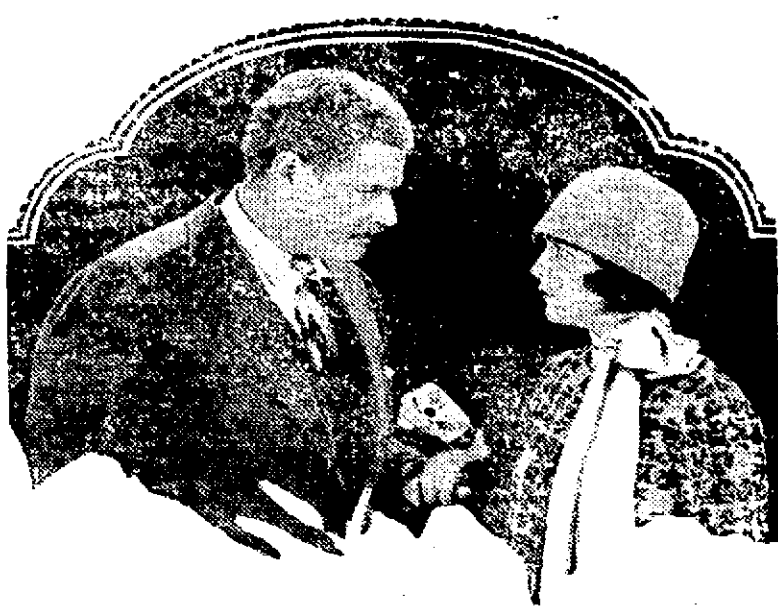

Children Permitted Treble Compensation With Age Certificates

Madison (P)—Announcing one of the largest compensation awards against an employer for the injury of a child, the state industrial commission Wednesday advised employers to protect themselves by requiring age certificates from their workers.

The commission has just entered an award for treble compensation amounting to more than $2,000 in the case of a boy under 17 years old who was employed without a child labor permit. One of the boys legs was disabled permanently in an accident and he received $3,000 from the insurance carrier of his employer. Under a law existing when the boy was hurt, an employer is obliged to pay treble compensation if a child who is injured was employed without a permit.

The increased compensation must be paid by the employer. Thus in the recent case the employer was ordered to pay $6,000 in addition to the amount paid by the insurance company.

The 1925 legislature modified the law so that if the only offense is the employment without a child labor permit, the compensation is only doubled instead of trebled, but this case came under the old law, the commission stated. "However, the increased compensation may still amount to as much as $18,000, so the industrial commission at this time urges all employers to exercise extreme care when employing persons under 21 years of age to ascertain their exact age and determine whether they need a permit.

"An easy way for the employer to protect himself is to require the minor employee to secure an age certificate from the local child labor permit officer. This age certificate is furnished at the nominal fee of 25 cents and is conclusive evidence of age in any proceeding under the workmen's compensation act or labor law of the state.

Nearly 2,000 took part in Scotland's great curling match held at Caresbree in December, it being the first time in twelve years that that event was held out of doors.

FISHERMEN TURNING TO SCIENCE, BOOKS

Appleton fishermen are taking to science and took time to help them in hooking the finny inhabitants of the water, according to Miss Florence Day, librarian at Appleton free public library. For the past few weeks there has been a run on the books pertaining to fish and their habits and methods to catch them.

Several new books on fish and fishing have recently been added to the libraries list and are becoming very popular. One of the books, "Bass, Pike, Perch and Other Game Fishes of America" by J. B. Hewshall is in big demand.

Other books that have been added are "Trout Fishing for the Beginner" by Richard Clapham; "Black Bass and Bass Craft" by Sheridan L. Jenz and "Casting, Tackling and Methods" by O. W. Smith.

British Workers Strick In Sympathy With Coal Miners, Who Want More Pay

BY MILTON BRONNER
SOMEWHERE IN YORKSHIRE,
—why are the British workers on strike?

What is the real reason for this greatest strike in the history of union labor—a strike that has put 5,000,000 men out of work and that may prove the most serious event Britain has faced in the last century?

This general strike comes as a direct result of the strike of more than 1,000,000 coal miners. It is a "sympathetic strike," so to speak—a strike to demonstrate the solidarity of British labor.

The true cause of the miners' strike does not appear on the surface. You can best understand it, perhaps, by listening in on a conversation I have just had with a stalwart Yorkshire miner.

"They had brass, they had," grunted this miner, taking his pipe from his mouth. "Nothing to come off the melons they cut; nothing off the royalties them dukes draw—but lower wages and longer hours for us. That was their solution to the whole problem. Gave."

Miner John Smith spat expressive.

READY FOR WANT

We were standing in the doorway of the wooden shack he calls home. The kids were off at school. The wife was down the street of the little hamlet discussing with other miners' wives the terrible times they all are facing. John Smith, and his fellow miners, Leveley Jones in Wales and Sandy McDermott in Scotland, are tightening their belts and facing real want.

"They says the mining industry don't pay," resumed Smith. "Mebbe not, in some districts. But listen here, the royal commission takes evidence, but it don't get all the evidence. One of them rich fellows who's director in a lot of coal companies replied to a question by our leaders as to how much money he gets. 'It's none of your business.'"

"They know all about our pay but theirs is none of our business. Nobody says 'Cut their pay.' Nobody says, 'Slice something off the 75,000 pounds a year the Duke of Northumberland gets in royalties—him with

ENGLAND TRIES A DICTATOR

Stanley Baldwin, premier of Great Britain, who holds powers almost equivalent to those of a dictator by virtue of the king's emergency proclamation.

der the huge estates belonging to the aristocracy. The coal companies secure the right to mine the coal by paying the landlords a royalty on each ton of coal dug.

The Duke of Northumberland, for example, gets $400,000 a year, and others get even more, without investing a penny or taking any business or financial risks. It is estimated that these payments amount to an average charge of two shillings a week upon the wage of the men employed in the mines.

And there are other grievances. Many collieries don't provide baths at the pitsides. As a result, the men have to walk long distances in dirty clothes and bathe at home. In some mines the men have to walk an hour to their place of work after being lowered in the shafts. Many mines are poorly fitted with electrical appliances, coal cutting machines, etc.

THE AMERICAN PLAN
I remarked to Smith, the sturdy miner.

"The owners often say you men don't try hard enough to produce coal, contrasted with the American miners, average yearly output of 655 tons with your average of 220 tons." Again John Smith spat.

"They don't tell you that we beat the French, Germans and Belgians," he said. "They don't tell you that the American mines haven't been worked so long and have richer seams. They don't admit the Yanks put in all kinds of coal cutting machinery. Seventy-six per cent of your American coal is cut by machine and 16 per cent of ours is. That's why the Yanks get production."

"Oh, Gawd, the hes they tell." And there you have it. That is why union labor is on strike in England today.

5,000 EXPECTED IN KAUKAUNA TO ATTEND PIG FAIR

Merchants Complete Elaborate Arrangements for Entertaining Visitors

Kaukauna — Saturday is the big day in Kaukauna. Over 5,000 people are expected in town to take in the pig fair and street celebration. Things will start to hum early in the morning when a band on each side of the river will play concerts on the main streets, starting at 9 o'clock.

Committees of businessmen from both sides of the river have been mapping out the program for the past two weeks in making out programs. All of the businessmen have agreed to hold feature sales in their stores all during the day.

The farmers will be engaged in stock and cattle sales all the morning and part of the afternoon on the south side fair grounds. There will be cattle buyers in Kaukauna from all over the state.

Philip La Follette, Dane co. district attorney and son of the late Robert M. La Follette, and Herman Ekert, attorney-general, will arrive in Kaukauna early Saturday morning and will be met by a group of farmers who will welcome them to the fair. They will deliver several speeches during the day. Many other speakers of lesser prominence also will talk to the people.

The Oneida Indian band will furnish the music on the south side and the Wrightstown band will play on the north side and besides there will be a fife and drum corps to play on both sides of the river.

During the afternoon and evening there will be parades winding their way through the principal thoroughfares of the city. In the evening the trucks will be illuminated and the streets will be flooded with light from powerful searchlights. There will be truck loads of clowns, singers and dancers to entertain the bystanders. Many of the clowns will act as clerks in the stores during the day and several of the enterprising merchants have arranged for musicians to play in their stores.

BIG CROWD AT JUNIORS' DANCE

Hall Beautifully Decorated for Party Given by High School Class

Kaukauna — One of the prettiest high school affairs ever held in the city was the Junior prom given in the auditorium Thursday night by the junior class of the Kaukauna High school. Over two-hundred people attended the dance, including many from Appleton, Menasha and Neenah.

Dan Courtney's orchestra from Appleton delighted the crowd with its music. The hall was prettily decorated in blending shades of orange and purple and the entire hall was covered with crepe paper in these colors. In the center of the ceiling was a large purple square of fringes covered with orange paper flowers and from this center piece radiated innumerable twisted streamers toward the walls. Even the walls were covered with various shades of twisted orange streamers and the stage had a dark purple background. In the center of this background was a large "1927" made out of orange colored flowers. The orchestra was seated on the stage.

The grand march started about 9 o'clock and was led by William Lee, general prom chairman, and the Augusta Gossens, chairwomen, for the prom were Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Runtz, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brenzel, William Smith and J. P. Cavanaugh.

LAVALLEY TRIAL MOVING SLOWLY

Four Women on Jury Which Is Hearing Case Against Waupaca Man

Waupaca — The LaValley trial in circuit court here is proceeding slowly. The selection of the jury occupied Wednesday morning. Four women were chosen to sit on it. Opening addresses by the counsels for both the state and the defense occupied the greater part of the afternoon. The complaining witness was on the stand several hours Wednesday afternoon and evening. In answer to many questions the young lady's memory was not clear and many times she answered "I don't know." It is expected that the state will take much of Thursday in presenting their testimony.

Arthur LaValley is now being tried for the third time in circuit court at Waupaca on a charge of rape committed in the spring of 1923 near the village of Big Falls upon Molly Kitzman, then a twelve year old child. The first trial resulted in a disagreement of the jury and at that time LaValley was represented by L. D. Smith of this city and Pat Martin of Green Bay who has since died. At the second trial Mr. Smith handled the trial alone and the state had Attorney B. J. Goggins as an assistant to District Attorney Otto L. Olen in this trial. A conviction resulted. Some irregularities prompted Smith to seek an appeal for a new trial which was granted by the supreme court.

IN ELITE MOVIE
A social service bureau with a section devoted exclusively to supplying unattached men with a female escort or companion!

Such is the unique idea behind "Watch Your Wife," Universal Jewel coming to the Elite Theatre Saturday and Sunday. In this unusual domestic comedy drama Universal is co-starring Virginia Valli and Pat O'Malley, two great favorites of screen audiences everywhere.

"Watch Your Wife" puts romance on a business basis. In fact there must be no romance or flirtation. Should either of these enter into the situation the contract ends. The bureau then calls in its employee who is only rented out from ten in the morning until ten in the evening.

In the case of "Watch Your Wife," light domestic differences disturb in otherwise happy household with Miss Valli and O'Malley playing respectively. The two agree to go their own ways. There is a divorce.

The wife falls into the clutches of a mercenary foreigner; the husband accidentally stumbles on the social service bureau with its wives for rent department. He seeks refuge from his loneliness by renting a "wife." This situation leads to complications that are interesting and laughable. The end comes in a cleverly developed climax.

"Watch Your Wife" is featured by many striking sets and also by handsome gowns worn by Miss Valli and Helen Lee Worthing. The latter in the role of the rented wife. The cast includes Ned Carr, Albert Con, Aggie Herring, Norm Hayden and others. The picture was directed by Svend Gade.

ANOTHER BIG STORY REACHES SCREEN
Another American Magazine story reaches the screen in "Hearts and Fists," that successful bit of fiction by Clarence Budington Kelland which appeared in the magazine recently.

This thrilling melodrama of lumberjacks and of a boy's fight to retrieve his father's lumber business is jammed with action, and as a picture is filled with daring scenes of fights, perilous rides, and of villainous intrigue.

Marguerite de la Motte and John Bowers are cast in the leading roles, with Dan Mason, the character actor.

for and comedian of Toonerville Trolley fame, and Alan Hale, well known heavy, heading the supporting cast.

"Hearts and Fists" is running at the New Bijou Theatre today and Saturday, where it is drawing large crowds by virtue of its cast, active plot and beautiful scenery.

One big scene of the picture is that in which Jack Curtis, as a hulking lumberjack, and John Bowers engage in a terrific fight, while Marguerite de la Motte rides to the latter's rescue on an aerial cableway, hundreds of feet over the valley. Other equally exciting scenes are richly scattered through the picture.

"THAT'S MY BABY" HEADS WEEK'S BILL AT FISCHER'S AP- PLETON

Next week is laugh week at the Fischer's Appleton Theatre.

Douglas MacLean will be seen in the role of chief merry-maker as the hero of a brand new Paramount farce-comedy with the popular title of "That's My Baby."

Picturegoers who love to exercise their smile muscles will have plenty of opportunity to do so while watching MacLean trying to woo a girl though handicapped with a strange baby, who persists in calling him "Daddy."

Speed is the keynote of "That's My Baby." There isn't a dull moment in the entire production; in fact, the complications pile up so thick and fast that the laughs come in bunches. Besides the baby, who sticks to him like glue despite all his heroic and screamingly funny efforts to get rid of it, MacLean has many other trials to contend with.

As luck would have it, the girl's father is an old business rival of his. In trying to win him over, MacLean only succeeds in antagonizing him all the more.

The fun reaches a high pitch of hilarity when MacLean presents the old man with a headache powder which proves to be poison! The life-and-death chase that follows brings the picture to an hysterical climax that mingles laughs and thrills at a rate of speed guaranteed to leave the audience breathless with surprise and merriment.

William Beaudine directed "That's My Baby" from the scenario by Joseph Franklin Poland. The story is an original, especially created for MacLean by George J. Crone and

Merchants, Schools and Civic Clubs Cooperate to Stimulate Use of Milk

Milk week in Outagamie-co will end Saturday. A large "milk parade" has been planned for the final day in Appleton, and all arrangements have been completed.

LED BY POLICE
Carl Gerlach and Theodore Sanders have been appointed by Mr. Meating to assist in planning the parade, which is to start promptly at 2 o'clock. George T. Prim, chief of police, and two motorcycle policemen will lead the procession, while places of the dairy companies are to be arranged according to the alphabet.

Twenty-three milk companies are entered in the parade. They are: Basch Dairy, Brockman Dairy, Dairy Specialty Co., Dietzen Dairy, Evergreen Dairy, Hafenbacker Dairy, Hietpas Dairy, A. B. Kassike Dairy, Kline Dairy, Ray Lohrenz, Outagamie-co Milk Products Co., Pottawood Co., Riverdale Dairy, Scheffer Dairy, Schindler Bros Dairy, Steffen Dairy, Tank Dairy, Tiedt Dairy, Utting Dairy, Weyenberg Dairy, Witman Dairy, and Valley Dairy Products Co. The last-named has volunteered to bring up the end of the procession.

Most rural schools in Outagamie-co will have milk programs on Friday evening including talks by dairymen, milk songs, and milk plays. Several schools gave their programs on Thursday evening because of other arrangements for Friday evening.

Many business places in Appleton and in the county have cooperated to make Milk Week a success by using window displays and advertising space.

Orchestra Director Idol Of Minneapolis Musicians

HENRI VERBRUGGHEN

Henri Verbrugghen, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, which will play matinee and evening concerts in Lawrence Memorial chapel next Wednesday, has more than made good as head of the great musical organization, it is indicated by the high esteem in which he is held in the Flour City. He is given a great deal of credit for the enviable position which his orchestra has in the musical world.

The Minneapolis Daily Star recently commented on Mr. Verbrugghen as follows:
That Henri Verbrugghen, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra has made good in this exacting position is borne out by the following editorial which appeared recently in the Minneapolis Daily Star:
"Wisdom of the Symphony Orchestra Association in selecting Henri Verbrugghen as its permanent conductor has been more than justified by the splendid results which the accomplished Belgian musician has obtained in a short time."

"We are reliably informed that the esprit de corps within the orchestra has never been so marked as it has under Mr. Verbrugghen's leadership and all will agree that Minneapolis was never so ably represented in the musical world as it is by the organization which the leader has been able to augment to its advantage and into which he is breathing the life of his genius."

"At the time Mr. Verbrugghen was employed the orchestra management was in a position to secure almost any one of the great conductors in America or abroad. Mr. Verbrugghen was not alone the unanimous choice of the orchestra management but of the players themselves. And it is quite refreshing to note that on his first birthday here, Mr. Verbrugghen gave unmistakable evidence of his appreciation of America, by taking out his first citizenship papers and of

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HENRY RAND, 65, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the stub of a yellow theater ticket.

JANET RAND, his daughter, breaks her engagement with BARRY COLVIN because of the "disgrace." JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Milwaukee where the theater is. The stub is traced to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he encounters Olga. She faints at hearing police want her for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lift Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder. Jimmy receives mysterious warnings to leave Milwaukee and later is attacked by two men but escapes.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church gets Mary's promise to marry him. Jimmy accuses her of marrying for money.

Jimmy and Olga, out one night, see a man they both recognize—he as one of his assailants, she as the man who got the stub. The man escapes, but they identify him by his police photo as IKE JENSEN.

Church, motoring with Mary, runs over a dog. His heartlessness causes her to break their engagement. Mary writes Jimmy a letter, telling him about it. The office boy sticks it in his pocket and forgets it.

Barry and Jimmy, coming from a theater, run into a street fight. One of the men, who runs away, is later identified by Jimmy as one of the pair who had attacked him.

Barry, without Jimmy's knowledge, jerks out Mary Lowell and tells her who Olga Maynard is. Later that day he tells Jimmy to mark the date in his note book.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XL

Jimmy said to Barry Colvin, as they were getting ready for bed: "There's been a lot in the last week or so to take my mind off my real job here. Seeing that fellow Kid Davis last night made me realize it. I'm through mooncalfing around. I'm going to find that man Jensen or bust. And when I find him I'm going to learn who's at the bottom of it all. I don't think he is."

"What did O'Day tell you about Davis? Did he locate him again?"

"No. But we will, don't worry. Barry has it occurred to you what a strange, weird sort of mystery this whole thing is?"

"Our newest clew you might say, is this man Davis. Checking back from him the other links in the chain are Jensen, the anonymous letters, Olga Maynard, Tom Fogarty and the yellow ticket stub."

"Yes, and the little shooting party that was planned for you. Don't forget the famous shot in the dark, Jim, or the rendezvous with Jensen."

"The one thing we can be thankful for most of all is the yellow stub. Thank God for that. If we ever do run this thing down, it will be because of that insignificant little piece of cardboard. Without it we'd have been lost; we'd still be in Grafton, most likely."

"There's an old saying, Jim, that 'there's no murderer smart enough to get away without leaving some clew behind. I'm beginning to believe it. I've never heard of one that succeeded in doing it, and I've read about quite a few murder cases."

"It's a law of retribution, Barry—or something that amounts to the same thing. You know, I imagine I can just visualize that murder, and trace the man who did it through every step he took."

After it was over, of course, God! I can't bear to think of the actual—"

"I know," said Barry softly.

"I can see him," Jimmy continued, "as he put on his hat and overcoat, then fumbling through his pockets and pulling out the handkerchief and laying it on the dresser. In this case, you know, the murderer was so confident of not being traced that, out of sheer bravado, he deliberately left the handkerchief on the scene."

"Maybe not bravado entirely," put in Barry. "Perhaps he calculated to throw the police onto the wrong scent by bringing in the woman angle. You know how they persisted in believing that some woman was mulation of some plan which might lead him to the root of the mystery. Fogarty, Jensen, Davis, Olga Maynard. O'Day, Thaddeus Rand—the images conjured by these names floated mistily before his eyes, and, disappearing again, left him groping vaguely in an attempt to rationalize the strange procession of events.

That evening found him with Lieutenant O'Day at police headquarters.

"Did Thaddeus Rand have any brother or sisters?" he asked.

O'Day sat and pondered. "I'm not sure," he said finally. "There was some talk or rumor that he had a sister, but it's been too long to remember. I sort of think there was a sister."

Jimmy said: "Barry Colvin brought a ring when he came here. It had the name Marie in it and my father's initials on it. It was Marie Real, of course."

"More than likely," assented O'Day. "but does it mean anything?"

"Nothing, except that I'm going to run it down if I can. I'm sure that the motive for my father's murder comes somewhere from out of his past. That's why it's worth investigating."

He reached for his hat. "If there were any way of tracing my grandfather—if he did have any sister that might be able to tell us something, or that might help us clear up this thing—then we might get somewhere."

"You can never tell, Rand. Maybe someone who loved Marie Real and was jealous of your father—"

"Hardly. She would be as old as my father now. It would be waiting a long time for revenge."

"But people are strange. Sometimes they do wait for the right chance—some of them."

He felt certain, as he threaded his way home, that old Thaddeus Rand somehow held the key to this baffling mystery.

Perhaps old Thaddeus was dead, and if so the secret might be locked with him in his grave. Perhaps

"Yes." Alarmed at her tone, he said: "What's the matter?"

"Thank God you're there!" Her voice came over the wire in a hoarse whisper. "I've found Jensen. He's in a house across the street. Come quick—oh!"

A sudden, gasping cry—then silence.

He called frantically into the phone. "Olga!"

But the echoes of his own voice, sounding strangely in the dark, empty hallway, were his only answer.

Do You Like It Scrambled?

SECONDS. Culls. Rejects. Offscourings. Mixed, puddled, pooled—all identity of its source, all responsibility for its grade hopelessly lost in the shuffle. Is that the kind of brandless, corner-lot gas on which you want to risk the hard dollars of your motor car investment?

The industry is full of it—nondescript gas—the riff-raff of refining—hungrily bargained and brokered by hangers-on at the fringe of the trade. No thought for quality or specification; low price is king. No fear of loss as long as careless car owners are willing to accept as gas whatever may come out of a gas pump.

Big, substantial institutions cannot operate that way. And if they cannot afford nameless, unfathered, scrambled, job-lot production, your car cannot afford that kind of consumption.

offers you the highest limit of brand-name protection. It is never sold blindly or under cover. Either at company filling stations or at the pumps of reputable private dealers, the name Wadham's is blazoned out as a guarantee of known sources, approved processes and legitimate marketing.

It is the gas of responsibility—old fashioned, keroseneless, motor-safe—made so and kept so for your full protection. Use it always!

STATE OPPOSES BOEHM'S PLEA FOR CLEMENCY

Calumet Harbor Man, Under Sentence to Prison, Asks Governor for Pardon

Governor John G. Blaine Wednesday morning heard application for pardon for Anton Boehm, Calumet Harbor man who was sentenced to a year in the state prison at Waupun when he was found guilty of running down and seriously injuring Benjamin Beschts on July 11, 1925 and neglecting to stop to give aid.

Hugo Keller, of Keller and Keller, Boehm's attorneys in the application, appeared before Governor Blaine in support of the petition, while John A. Londorf, district attorney, represented the state.

It was argued that Boehm thought he had only grazed Beschts, lightly and that he did not know that the man had been seriously injured, that he was too excited to stop that he had not attempted to leave the city in fight, but had remained within two blocks of the spot on which the accident occurred, and that the statute covering the case had been intended for deserted roads where other help for the injured is not available.

In opening the pardon, District Attorney Londorf pointed out that a door of Boehm's automobile had been dented, that a fender had been bent and that a bloodspot had been left on the door, and that Boehm could hardly justify his claim to have been ignorant of the inquiry in view of this evidence, the district attorney stated. Governor Blaine took the petition

Mother's day!

A Mother's Testimony
"My son gave me the Maytag for a birthday gift. Could a mother receive a more useful and health-saving gift from anyone? I'll say 'NO.'"

MOTHER would not mind washday if it were the easier Maytag washday that hundreds of thousands of women have come to know. No more hand-rubbing. No heavy lifting. No stooping over. Just an hour or so of easy washing instead of the "all-day washday."

Have a Maytag sent to mother's home for a free trial. Let the Maytag do a whole week's washing for her. Let it wash big tubfuls in 3 to 7 minutes.

Let it wash collars, cuffs and neckbands spotlessly clean, without hand-rubbing.

Let her see how the famous Maytag wringer instantly adjusts itself to a handkerchief or a blanket, and wrings both dry. How the self-reversing drain-board keeps water away from her and off the floor. How the cast-aluminum tub keeps water hot throughout an entire washing. How the tub cleans itself in 30 seconds after the washing is done.

Phone for a Free Trial—
Let the nearest Maytag dealer deliver a Maytag to mother's home. Let her test it in her own way, make any comparisons she wishes. Remember, there is no obligation nor expense. If the Maytag doesn't sell itself, don't keep it.

CHILTON FARMERS ORGANIZE C. T. A.

Erwin Gaubatz Chosen President of Association by Directors

Chilton — A meeting of dairymen held in the agricultural department of Chilton High school Monday evening the Chilton Cow Testing association was reorganized.

H. C. Seales of Fond du Lac and G. L. Weber of the high school and signed up 25 dairymen who plan to weed out their boarder cows and thus improve their herds.

The board of directors elected consists of Oscar Schoen, Stockbridge; T. W. Christie, Stockbridge; T. Henry Weeks, Erwin Gaubatz, Oscar Miller, Delbert Molg and Joseph Juckem of Chilton. The directors chose Erwin Gaubatz as president, Oscar Miller, vice president, and T. Henry Weeks, secretary-treasurer.

The directors elected Fred Priester of Wisconsin Rapids as official tester and have secured the services of a man who has had special training in this work and also has had a lot of good experience in feeding and milking dairy cattle.

The association plans to adopt only such practices as will help the individual farmer. The tester will not publish outstanding individual records but will simply summarize the best producers without reference to the owners. It is hoped that this practice will eliminate the over-feeding of individuals, and bring up herd average production.

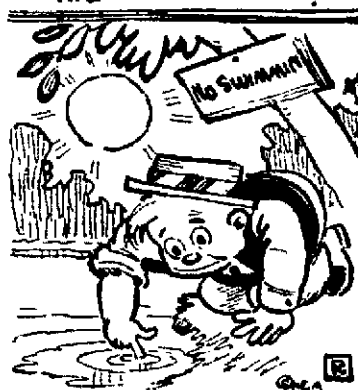

The annual report will classify the production of each cow without the name of owner. Several local dairymen feel that they would prefer to begin this work in the fall and an effort will be made to get another 25 dairymen together this fall to form another association.

Kings and Cookies

ABOUT one thousand years ago, a king of England, fleeing before his enemies, sought shelter at a lowly peasant hut.

The thrifty housewife, ignorant of her guest's high rank, set him to watch her cakes baking on the hearth.

Thinking how to save his kingdom the weary king forgot the cakes. They burned and he meekly took a good roasting from his hostess.

Those humble hearth cakes, now famed in English folk lore, were the progenitors of our modern delicious cookies.

LETTER FROM MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT—CONTINUED

"Yes," answered Jackie, when Miss Perier inquired if he loved his mother very much. "I love her more than anybody in dis whole world. I fink I would die if she did not come back."

"Don't you love your daddy?" inquired Miss Perier.

"Yes," he answered hesitatingly, "but he's a man."

And then I heard Miss Perier say in a whisper:

"I'm afraid Jackie, the time will come when you will understand that a man wants more loving than a woman." She continued in a louder voice:

"Jackie, don't you love any other woman? Don't you love either of your grandmas?"

You can see how intricately as well as how deeply this woman was pumping the child.

Little Jackie did not say anything for a moment and she repeated:

"Don't you love either of your grandmas?"

Then he spoke:

"Jackie don't know. Grandma Hamilton but my mother says he will love her. She is coming here tomorrow and I'm glad cause I know my mover will come home den. She wants to see her very much. Grandma Prescott is a very cross woman. She don't love Jackie at all. She loves Buddy and she kisses him, but she never kisses me. I don't care doe because she's an awful cross woman. She's cross to Hannah and to my mover and to little Jackie."

I'm telling you this, Leslie, just exactly as I heard that child say it. Isn't it terrible that he has been so prejudiced against me? I know that Hannah must have drawn his attention to the fact that I never have been able to pay as much attention him, a child of unknown parents that you adopted, as to my own grandchild, for surely a baby of his age would never have realized it. I think as soon as you return, you should reprimand Hannah soundly for this. A woman who will poison the mind of a little child has no business to have that child in her care.

Miss Perier, instead of saying to the boy that he must be mistaken, took him up closer in her arms and kind of rocked him to and fro, saying:

"My darling, my darling, have you already begun to note the difference?"

Adventures Of The Twins

THE MONEY IN THE BREAD

"Well go and call on Mrs. Woodchuck next," said Mister Tingling to the Twins. "I saw her husband go away this morning, but I suppose he has left the money with her. He knows that I always come around to collect my rent on the thirty-second day of the month."

So off they went to the Woodchuck's house between the potato patch and the fence.

Tap, tap, tap! they went on her front door.

Now Mrs. Woodchuck was baking bread when she heard the rap on her door. And she knew pretty well who it was.

She had been thinking as she worked. She was thinking, "Oh, dear! I wish I had a new silk dress! I'm so sick of my old gray wool! I wish I had a lovely dress like Mrs. Bluebird!"

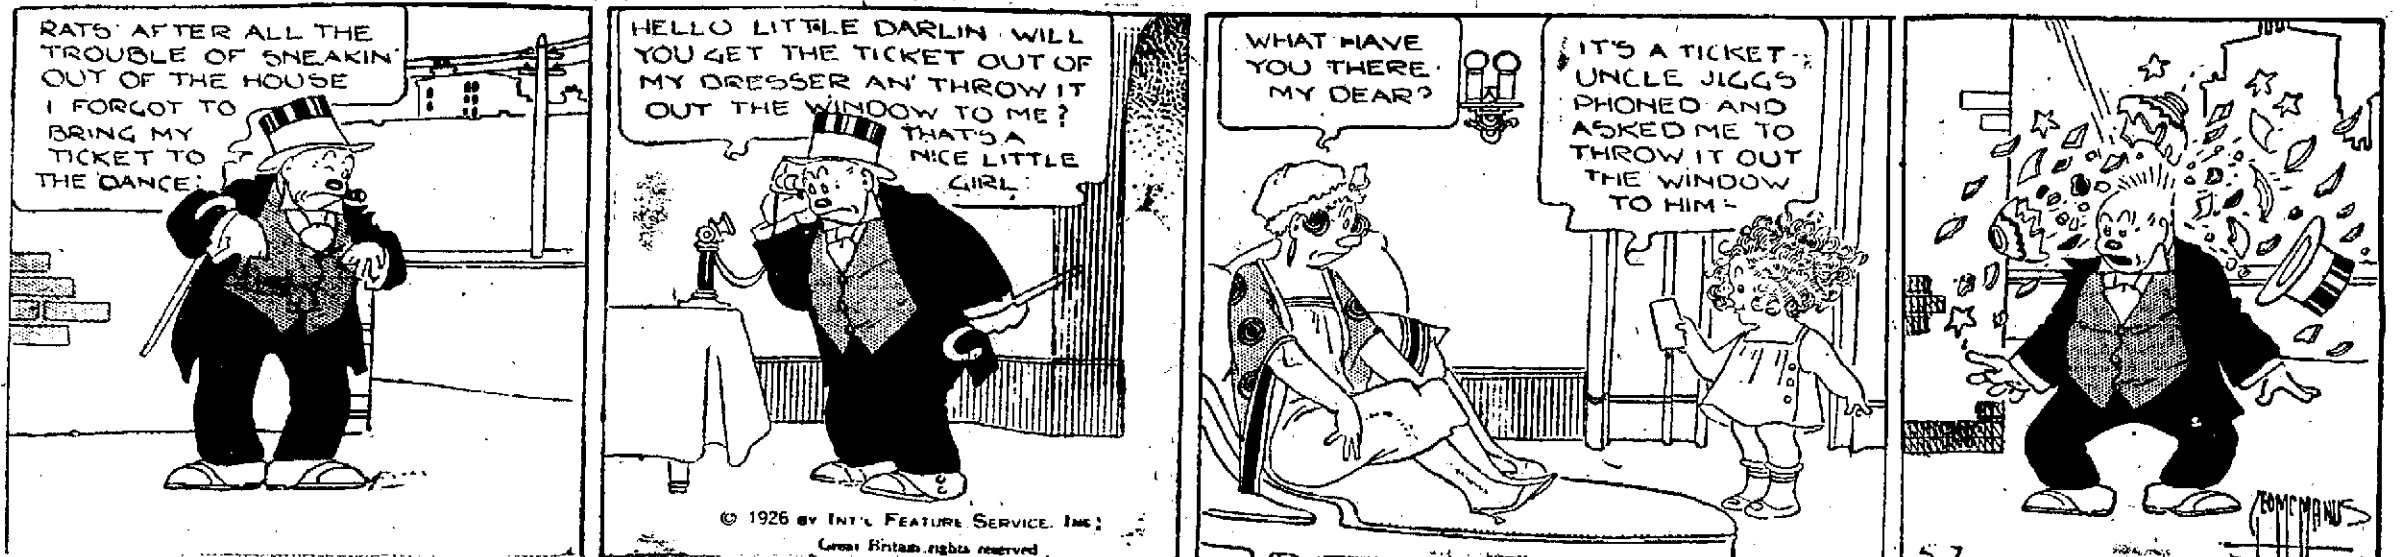

And she was wishing more than that. She was wishing that she had a new hat. A new hat with lovely red on it, like Miss Yellowhammer's.

And she was wishing also that she had a shawl. A shawl of black and white, like Mrs. Woodpecker's.

Besides clothes, she was wishing that she had a new rug for the hall, and new dining room curtains, and a new set of bedroom furniture.

That's what she was thinking about

Hutchison, ever ready to help a young fellow, said: "Let me see how you play it."

New York—As was the case last year, America's hopes for success in tournament rest on Glenna Collett, national and French champion. START WATER POLO AT Y. M. C. A. TANK

A new water sport, one which is one of the most popular of the swim sports, will be attempted for the first time in Appleton with the advent of water polo at the Y. M. C. A. The first effort at organizing the sport was made Thursday evening and it will be tried every Monday and Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the "Y" pool. All members are urged to try the sport. Teams will be formed and there is every possibility that a league may function. Ernie Melnius, star diver and "Y" swimming instructor, is in charge of the game and will organize the teams. The game has been played in the Big Ten conference as a regular sport after each tank meet and the points of the winners are added to that team's score.

APPLETON CLUB LOOKS GOOD IN PRACTICE WORK

Chances for a seventh straight title for Lawrence college teams coached by A. C. Denny, Blue director of athletics, were cut in half this week by an injury to McConnell, anchor man in the jumps, of the 1926 track squad. Denny's basketball team capped the Midwest, state and Little Five titles in 1925 and that spring his track team, added the state track belt. This winter his eagles again annexed the state cage title, and a claim to the Midwest honors, though losing the Little Five hunting to Carroll. As Denny does not coach football his teams had garnered six titles in the last two seasons, taking at least one in every branch of athletics. With prospects of a seventh state title in sight due to the excellent work of the 1926 track hopes in early season practices, the blow fell, depriving Denny of a sure 15 and possibly 20-point winner in the state meet. It is a tough break for the popular Blue mentor.

With the largest squad reporting that has been out this season, Appleton's 1926 ball team of the Fox River Valley League held its most snappy practice to date Thursday afternoon at Grand park. The team will practice again Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon it will battle a team of star college diamond men in a practice tilt. Grand field now is in good condition and only a little work remains to be done on the stands.

A new infield, consisting entirely of Appleton boys, was the sensation of the practice. Al Goeha, Son Tornew and Cully Schultz, regulars of last year, held down the three bags and Cliff Courtney, Blue athletic star, worked at the shortstop berth. The work of Courtney featured the infield drill as the Blue star showed all kinds of snap and pep, handled hard chances in great style and begged the ball around well beside pepping up the squad. Last year three or four men were used to fill the berth including, Boots Lamers, old A. A. star, Squaw Pocan, star hurler of the team; and Thien, and while each held down the position well enough none could be used there permanently and the change affected their play. The new combination seems to be one that will look good in the valley loop all season, against the best type of ball speed is a big factor in Courtney's play.

Four hurlers and three catchers received hard workouts Thursday. H. Tornew and Data Crowe reliable hurlers of last year. Refke, a second string main last year, and Kranzsch, a southpaw, heaved their shots to East and Brockhouse of the 1925 squad and Ashman, former Blue athlete. Manager Batz figures that in a loop of right-handers, a left slider will bother batters, and is hoping that Kranzsch will come through. Last and Brockhouse are experienced men from last year. Last being regular receiver, Ashman has more pep than the older men but lacks their experience in fast ball.

Among the outfielders are Manager Batz, Cave, Radtke, Al and Annie Hillman, Friebe and H. Tornew and Crowe, the hurlers.

Denny, Blue director of athletics, were cut in half this week by an injury to McConnell, anchor man in the jumps, of the 1926 track squad. Denny's basketball team capped the Midwest, state and Little Five titles in 1925 and that spring his track team, added the state track belt. This winter his eagles again annexed the state cage title, and a claim to the Midwest honors, though losing the Little Five hunting to Carroll. As Denny does not coach football his teams had garnered six titles in the last two seasons, taking at least one in every branch of athletics. With prospects of a seventh state title in sight due to the excellent work of the 1926 track hopes in early season practices, the blow fell, depriving Denny of a sure 15 and possibly 20-point winner in the state meet. It is a tough break for the popular Blue mentor.

BLUE NET SQUAD MEETS OSHKOSH

Old Rivals of Courts Clash Here Saturday Morning, Games Start at 9:30

Oshkosh Normal tennis players will battle the Lawrence college squad in a match on the Blue courts Saturday morning, the Blue athletic department announced. The Normals were to play the Mundhenkemen here last Saturday in connection with the Blue-Normal trackmeet but the event was cancelled and the Bluemen played practice match with the local "Y" squad instead.

The games will start at 9:30 in the morning and will consist of four singles and two doubles matches. Members of the Lawrence squad will be Page Johnson, Ford du Lac, Walter Heideman, Appleton, and Roy Sund, Neenah, all Blue cage stars, and LaBorde of Oshkosh, valley and school champ. LaBorde and Heideman and Johnson and Sund will form the doubles teams. Next Monday the Blue netters invade Milton for their first match in the new state collegiate tennis conference, with Milton college as their opponent.

CARDS TURNED IN BUT FOUR ASSISTS IN GAME

St. Louis Cardinals had an easy day ahead in a recent game with the Pirates. They chalked up but four assists. Thevenow, shortstop, getting two and Johnson, pitcher, two. Bell, at third, didn't have a single chance and Hornsby just one.

Glenna Collett Is Hope Of America In Golf Meet

New York—As was the case last year, America's hopes for success in tournament rest on Glenna Collett, national and French champion. It will be recalled that in 1925 Glenna invaded the playground of her British sisters for the first time. And, much to the surprise of her many admirers, met defeat in one of the early rounds.

While our own Glenna has seemingly been a bit off her game this year, she has not been defeated in any of her matches. The talented British girl being recognized in all golfing circles as one of the greatest pastimes the fair sex has ever produced.

This year Glenna won't have Miss Withered to contend with, for the simple and perfectly good reason Miss Withered will not be entered in the classic.

Instead, the American queen will be obliged to combat another of England's stars, Cecil Leitch. Miss Leitch rates almost on a par with Joyce Withered, the two having had things pretty much their own way across the pond for the last few years. In the 1925 championship, it was Cecil Leitch who carried Miss Withered to the 37th hole before acknowledging defeat. The clash, as you'll recall, was for the title.

Glenna will no doubt find a tough competitor in a 17-year-old French maiden, too, Mlle. Simon De La Chume. This slip of a lass has come to the front rapidly and many

As most everyone knows, the British women's tournament is one of the biggest events of the fair sex golfing season. It was inaugurated in 1923. It has been held every year since with the exception of the 1915-1919 period when the World War caused the links pasture to be tossed into the background.

Every day will be "Ladies Day" at the ball park in Oshkosh as Manager Bruce Noel of the Sawdust City club will admit women free at every home game. Noel is also going to cater to the fans of tomorrow. He has announced that there will be no change of boys of the short pants variety.

M'Auliffe, Orange Mentor, Leaves School Next Fall To Study Medicine At Rush

Former Beloit Star Had Many "Tough Breaks" in Year at Appleton Institution

John T. "Mac" McAuliffe, director of athletics at Appleton high school, will not return to the local school next year, he said this week. McAuliffe plans to enter Rush medical college at Chicago for a four-year course starting next fall and in all probability will give up the coaching game.

McAuliffe, a star at Beloit college, came to Appleton from Madison, S. D., where in his first year of coaching he turned out successful teams in the small city. His basketball team entered the finals of the state tourney and his grid squad has a successful season. "He virtually introduced track at the little city and turned out a winning squad in the first attempt."

Here this year, Mac has had the toughest kind of breaks all year, but his hard, never-say-die fight in the face of the blows, has earned him the respect of his players. Townspeople and fans alike, starting out with fair football material he was forced to shift a small group almost every week to fill positions vacated by injured and inept players. Inability to find a good quarterback in the school added in spoiling his plans.

When basketball season opened Mac started out to make fans forget the grid season and would have succeeded but for about a dozen more hard breaks. The Orange squad, looked up as a fair contender in the valley race, ran through its first few games with ease, beating some of the best competition in the loop.

This included Sheboygan's team of vets and Fond du Lac, later crowned conference champ. Undoubtedly the squad would have won every game on the regular schedule until two of the best prep forwards in the state were dropped from the team for playing professional ball. As it was, fighting Mac rounded up a team that won another game, and lost three with the best teams in this section by a few points. Then it took the district title and surprised all by going through to a semi-finals in the state meet. In doing it so it whipped Eau Claire, third place winner, and Wausau, consolation finalist, two of the best teams at Madison. Eau Claire dropped to win the title, lost its only game to Appleton. With the regular shooting power of the first part of the season, a state title probably would have fallen to Appleton.

In track to date, Mac has had the same tough breaks, five of his best men being ineligible and others being injured. McAuliffe was a star in football, basketball and track at Beloit. He was one of the most feared football players in the Little Five and Midwest conferences and Beloit halls still ring with stories of his athletic feats. The Appleton coach played quarterback on the Beloit team for three seasons from 1922-24, was center on the basketball team for the same time and was a member of the championship track squad of the state line school for three years.

On the grid Mac kicked, passed and ran the ball with equal brilliance. His generalship was flawless and his sportsmanship won him many friends in opposing camps. For three years the McAuliffe of Adria pass was the biggest worry of coaches of the State and Midwest conferences. Mac was the unanimous choice of sport writers for the quarterback post on mythical eleven in 1923 and 1924. He captained the Beloit Midwest grid champs in 1924.

His record in basketball is still more outstanding. He played center on the championship Blue Devils for three years, being the center of the entire teamplay.

In track he was equally as good. His pole vaulting usually meant a first place for Beloit. He holds the college, state and Midwest mark in this event at 12 feet 1 inch. He set the mark when the Millmen capped the Midwest meet in 1925. He ran the low and high hurdles and was always good for records and thirds and sometimes firsts in this event. His ability as a sprinter was shown when he performed with the crack relay team of Adria, Nesbitt, Thompson and McAuliffe, which set a new state and Beloit college record turning the distance in 1 minute and 34 seconds. Mac also is a high jumper of ability and often picked up extra points for Mills in this event when they needed to win.

The victory he helped Beloit win to three of its four successive state championships.

MAJOR LOOP BALL TEAMS BOTHERED BY CASUALTIES

Babe Ruth Among Latest Victims; Senators, Macks Win Again as Yanks Lose

Chicago—(P)—Baseball casualties are increasing. The latest victims are Ruth of the Yankees, Bennett of the Browns, Wertz of the Braves and Gerber of the Browns.

Ruth turned an ankle at the Yankee stadium in an attempt to catch a short fly Thursday. Bennett crashed into a Philadelphia wall while pursuing a foul. Gerber split a finger attempting to hunt and Wertz suffered an injured pitching hand trying to field one of Die Traylor's smashes.

Bludge of Washington, who was knocked out by a pitched ball during the world's series last fall was hit by Shawkey of New York, in the middle of the back but smiled. Fournier of the Dodgers and Gautreau of the Braves remain out of action as a result of a collision at Brooklyn Tuesday.

Hornsby of the Cardinals was unable to play against the Phillies. Gray of the Athletics, injured in a slide Wednesday after Bill Wambegans had been hit by a batted ball in practice, is nursing a leg.

There were pitchers battles as east and west got into the thick of inter-section clashes Wednesday. At St. Louis Vance of Brooklyn was driving from the mound in the first inning when a triple, a double and a single with a base on balls accounted for three runs.

After that McWeeney of Brooklyn pitched hitless ball, but his mates got only five hits and one run or Rehn. Barnes of the Giants and Root of the Cubs had a battle at Chicago, the Giants winning, 2-1. Kelly made a homer in the ninth.

Four singles and an error by Cuyler gave the Boston Braves three runs, enough to beat the Pirates. Cincinnati smashed out 18 hits to smother the Phillies, 14 to 4.

A three-run rally in the ninth brought the Philadelphia Athletics their fourth straight victory. St. Louis losing 5-4. Cochran doubled with the bases full.

Washington's fifth straight conquest and the Yankees fourth straight defeat arrived at the same time when the Senators won at New York, 5-3. Goslin and Peckinpaugh hit homers. Wilton, Red Sox recruit held Cleveland to five hits. Boston won 1-0 by punching hits.

LABORING WAGES SHOW INCREASE

Only Three Classes Earning Less Now Than They Did
Four Years Ago

Madison—(AP)—Only three classes of manual labor surveyed by the Wisconsin industrial commission, are earning less today than they did four years ago, it was announced this week.

The commission, in a survey of the "Wisconsin Labor Market," announced that employees engaged in manual labor in the clothing, flour and railroad industries are the only ones whose average weekly wage in March this year was less than in January 1922.

Salaries of all employees engaged in non-manual pursuits in all of the fields surveyed are earning more than they did four years ago, the commission reported.

The increased average weekly wages in manual pursuits in the four year period range from 17.5 per cent increase in the automobile industry, to one-tenth of 1 per cent among employees of the tobacco manufacturing business.

The clothing industry is paying 2.5 per cent less on an average, the commission has ascertained, than four years ago. Railroads pay 13 per cent less on an average for manual labor, and the decrease in four years in the flour mill business is 35.6 per cent.

Manufacturing employment in the state is 2.8 per cent greater than a year ago last March, the commission reports. Total factory payrolls, it is declared, have increased in the same twelve months period 8.4 with the average per capita weekly earnings 4.1 per cent higher.
